GOVERNOR HANDICAP TANFORAN HEADLINER

By J. W. MARCHBANK

With the running of the Governor's Handicap at Tanforan tomorrow memories of other days at the "home course" are bound to return. It is a significant thing that once a race becomes established in the public mind as an annual feature interest in its renewal increases by leaps and bounds. The fans like to think of the coming event far ahead of the decision of the struggle out on the popular oval.

Overnight affairs have their appeal, it must be admitted, but the continuity of stakes run season after season at any particular track is what keeps the pastime on a high level. With nothing but ordinary events, with no traditions back of them, the game would soon languish into an entertainment without any semblance of class. What would the spring meeting at Churchill Downs amount to without the Kentucky Derby? What would Saratoga be without the historic Travers? And Belmont without the even more famous Futurity?

The winning of the Haggin Handicap by Time Flight of the Pike string at Tanforan last weekend had more than usual interest to me. Time Flight's blood lines, as the novelists of a few years back would say, "intrigue" me and, besides, I take pride in carrying on in breeding the blood horse where James B. Haggin, Adolph B. Spreckels and others left off some time ago. If it wasn't for the fascination of rearing such good ones as Maid of Perth over at Heather Farm it may be the restoration of racing at Tanforan in 1930 would never have taken place. I am enamored of both the breeding and racing ends of the game.

Time Flight, a stakes winner at two, and now apparently returned to form capable of making him a danger anywhere, is an unsexed son of the similarly named Flight of Time. The sire is by imported Hourless, a real runner in his day, and, as is familiar to racegoers, Hourless is a son of Negofol. In the last couple of years I have been giving ample opportunities to Negofol's son, Xenofol, at Heather Farm and, judging from the conformation and action in the field of his sons and daughters, they are going to be a fleet lot when sent to the races next year.

ARGONAUTS SAIL FOR NEW HOMES IN NORTH LAND

Large Number Of Farmers To Take Up Residence In Manatuska Valley

After having been feted in the bay area for a couple of days past, 274 farmers from Minnesota embarked on the U. S. Transport St. Mihiel on Wednesday of this week.

The steamer will bear them North en route to the fertile Manatuska Valley project in Alaska. Here they plan to build themselves new homes, schools and churches. There they will plant and harvest their crops and again the Minnesota farmers, their wives and children will take up the task of making a living.

In the sheltered valleys of Alaska, where stand virgin timber and soil, the earning of a living will not be so difficult.

The colonists are being sent to Alaska as part of FERA's Alaskan project.

These colonists are the forerunners to prepare the way for approximately 200 other Midwest farming families who are scheduled to follow in the next several weeks, destined to the same location.

THRILLING FILM OF WAR IN INDIA STARS COOPER

Devotion To Duty Almost Costs Lives Of Members Of Entire Regiment

The soldiers of the king, not as Kipling sang of them, but as Francis Yeats-Brown described in his remarkable book, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer"—are the heroes of the stirring, remarkable and colorful picture of warfare and heroism in India, coming to the Daly City Theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, May 5, 6 and 7. Produced by Paramount, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" features Gary Cooper, Franchot Tone, Richard Cromwell and Sir Guy Standing in the leading roles.

The plot of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" revolves about the conflict between Sir Guy Standing—hard bitten, crusty colonel—and three of his subordinate officers, one of whom is his son.

Their differences come to a head when the son, Richard Cromwell, is carried away by a warring chieftain and Standing refuses to pursue because he cannot endanger his regiment. Tortured for information as to the whereabouts of a tremendous convoy of ammunition, he finally breaks down and blurts out the regiment secret.

The Lives of a Bengal Lancer

The chieftain captures the ammunition train and prepared to lead a revolution against the British. The Lancers ride to attack him, although they realize they will be destroyed, because they deem it their duty to stem the revolution.

Cooper and Tone contribute the outstanding portrayals of courageous and romantic campaigners to "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer." And the entire cast, including Monte Blue, C. Aubrey Smith, Douglas Dumbrille, Kathleen Burke and Akim Tamiroff in the supporting roles, render sterling performances.

On the same program will be shown "Murder on a Honeymoon," with James Gleason and Edna Mae Oliver.

Wednesday is China Nite.

These four beautiful gray horses, which on state occasions draw King George's carriage at Balmoral and Sandringham, were seen for the first time in London on the occasion of the silver jubilee celebration. Their names are Greystone, White Wings, Tiel and Seagull.

CANADA BATTLES FOR FIRST PLACE IN MINING

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

Canadians are setting such a pace in seeking gold, Uncle Sam will have to hump himself to keep near the pacemaker. The mining columns of live papers up north tell us that a national drive for the gold metal will soon be started. Announcement of the epochal movement was made in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

A veritable army, with qualified geologists to help, will take the field in the summer. An appropriation of $1,000,000 will take care of the overhead of the nine hundred men, divided into 180 parties.

Of particular interest out this way is that twenty of the parties will get busy in the province of British Columbia, ten in the Northwest territories and five in the Yukon. They will search for gold where favorable rock formations exist.

Official figures show the increase since 1928 in the number of plants milling gold ore. The increase was from 30 to 115, with British Columbia in second place to Ontario. The district to the north of us has 28 mills.

Another bit of activity, demonstrating how mine-minded our Canadian cousins are. The British Columbia Chamber of Mines is confident of collecting $7000 from supply houses, mining companies, brokers and mining men generally and excellent response is reported. A recent cut of $1000 in the grant from the Vancouver City Council came as a severe shock to the Chamber of Mines.

Sidney Norman writes in the Vancouver Sun that the chamber is doing splendid service in inducing new capital to come to British Columbia. Another important phase of its activities is the education of young men in the rudiments of both lode and placer prospecting, thus encouraging them to go into the hills to make their own way.

Officials of the Chamber of Mines are of the firm opinion that if part of the effort put forth by public officials to create non-productive work with the funds of the taxpayer were centered on the development of natural resources unemployment would speedily disappear in British Columbia.

* * *

It is forth noting that the advance in the price of silver is brightening the outlook of the seekers for the white metal immeasurably. It is predicted that silver-lead camps of the Pacific Coast, the Kootenays and the Omineca area will soon resume activities, with quite a beneficial effect on the unemployment problem.

It is easy to see that if the federal government wishes to keep ahead of world buyers it will soon be compelled to further reduce the seigniorage profit, following the late reduction.

With that 5 per cent reduction the price of silver in this country has gone to 77½ cents, which, as experts say, is a level not touched since the years of the World War, when the white metal was artificially sustained by the Pitman Act, which instructed the federal government to purchase a large amount of silver to replace that removed from the treasury for exportation to China and India.

TRADITIONAL HANDICAP TO BE RUN SATURDAY

Field Of Speedy Three Year Olds Compete In Classic Event At Tanforan

Riskulus, California's ranking stake horse, is expected to go postward as favorite in the $2500 added Governor's Handicap at Tanforan Saturday (tomorrow), May 4. He will head a brilliant field ready to assemble for the mile and a sixteenth classic for three year olds and upward.

Riskulus, owned by Norman W. Church of Los Angeles, took the measure of some of the best horses in American training at Santa Anita. He came north to trounce the best at Bay Meadows and now he'll be asked to meet the best at this historic old course.

The history of Riskulus is one of ups and downs. He began his three year old form last year by running a smashing second to his stablemate, Gallant Sir, in the Agua Caliente Handicap. Considered to have an excellent chance in the Kentucky Derby, he carried the hopes of California in the Blue Grass classic. But ill fortune dogged Riskulus' steps.

The big chestnut son of Stimulus and Risky was ill in Texas, but still managed to run third in the Texas Derby. Shipped to Churchill Downs, he did not throw off his sickness and to complicate matters he was rescued from a fire on the eve of the Derby. Finally, he was withdrawn the morning of the Derby.

Riskulus did not regain his form again until midsummer in Chicago, when he stepped a mile and a quarter in 2:02 2-5 to win the Arlington Handicap. He had a "rough trip" in the Bay Meadows Handicap last fall and then "spread" a hoof prior to the Santa Anita Handicap. Although he started in the latter stake, he was not at his best. He reached good form again and beat Top Row the closing day at Bay Meadows. Now he is training excellently for the engagement tomorrow.

Toro Flight, clever three year old and winner of the California Derby, will run coupled with Riskulus as the Church entry.

Other stars expected to be seen in action in the Governor's Handicap on Saturday include Sand Cloud, Piety, Bon Amour, Distribute, Goldwater, Arson, Slapped, Precursor, John's Birthday, Sea Cliff, Even Up, Melody Lane and Happy Helen.

Governor Merriam has been invited to attend and will crown the winner.

PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED BY AUTO AT LAWNDALE

Death Almost Instantaneous In Accident Involving Other San Franciscan

Fred Duncing, 61, 2319 Twenty-third avenue, San Francisco, died at the Villa Sanitarium, Sunday evening, as the result of injuries received that afternoon in an automobile accident.

Duncing, who was crossing the highway, was struck by a machine driven by Harry Pfeifer, 17, of 2306 Union street, San Francisco, near the Home of Peace Cemetery in Lawndale. His death was almost instantaneous. The victim sustained a fractured skull, compound fractures of both legs and deep head lacerations.

The remains were removed to the W. C. Lasswell undertaking establishment, where the case was turned over to Deputy Coroner Luella D. Pepper.

The driver of the car involved was taken by his guardian, Mrs. Smith, before District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell in Redwood City, on Monday morning of this week, and gave his version of the affair to that officer. No arrest was made, as the accident was deemed unavoidable.

The victim is survived by his widow.

An inquest into the death of Duncing was held at Lasswell's mortuary, on Tuesday morning, by Acting Coroner E. O'Connell. The juty returned a verdict that death was due to an unavoidable accident.

The funeral was conducted Tuesday morning of this week from a San Francisco mortuary.

DISCUSS PICNIC ARRANGEMENTS WITH BANQUET

Daly City Merchants Body Consider Many Matters At June Meeting

The Daly City Merchants Association met in regular session Wednesday evening of this week at the City Hall with all officers and many members in attendance.

The committees on the annual picnic and outing and the postoffice matter reported progress.

Word was received from the Board of Fire Commissioners that merchants would be licensed to sell fireworks within the Daly City Limits under certain restrictions, details of which will be published later, for eight days, from June 27 to July 4, inclusive.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Solari, Mather, Pavlos and Wells was named to arrange for a banquet on the next meeting night of the association, Wednesday, June 5. At this session final arrangements for the annual picnic, to be held this year on August 11 at Oak Grove Park, will be considered.

C. W. Miller and Lesley Hill appeared as a committee from the American Legion Post and asked the co-operation of the association in conducting a children's Hallowe'en celebration and parade in Daly City this year. The members expressed themselves as favorable to the proposition. The matter will be further considered at the June meeting.

Mayor Smith announced that at the next meeting of the Daly City Recreation and Improvement Club it was expected a final report would be made on costs and other matters incidental to the proposed municipal improvement projects sponsored by the club. He urged all members of the association and all citizens to be present at this meeting, which will be held next Tuesday evening at the City Hall.

All members of the association are urged to attend the next regular meeting at Eagles Hall on Wednesday evening, June 5. Many matters of importance will be considered.

ANSWER IS SIMPLE

"What has become of the cute little Teddy?" writes an inquirer.

He was a cute little fellow, but an attempt to turn his exhibitions into a racket proved his downfall and the elimination of his showing.

BAYSHORE HALL RECEPTION SCENE

The new Community Hall on Acacia street, Bayshore City, was opened to the public at a reception held in the building Friday evening of last week.

Music for dancing was furnished by a ten piece orchestra.

The affair was well attended. Many of our county officials were present and complimented the residents of that locality for their progressive spirit in erecting such a fine building by the combined efforts of its citizens with monetary donations and all labor furnished free. The completed project is a wonderful monument to the co-operative spirit that exists in the community. At a late hour in the evening palatable refreshments were served to those present.

The building contains a dance hall with a well equipped stage, lodge rooms and theater space.

LOCAL MEMBERS VISIT FOUNDING OF ORDER CITY

View Old Reprint of Copy Of Historic Document At Ghost Town

Grand Inside Sentinel Alice Oldham, accompanied by Supervising Deputy Hattie Kelly and Rena Mathias of El Carmelo Parlor and Mrs. Pauline Quirlo of Amapola Parlor, journeyed to Sutter Creek on Saturday of last week to attend the official visit of Grand President Gladys E. Noce to her home parlor of Amapola in Sutter Creek. A very delicious home cooked dinner was served before the meeting, which was held in the Municipal Auditorium. With two exceptions, all the seated grand officers were present.

There were representatives from all sections of the state, including eleven past grand presidents. The officers of the parlor were all gowned alike in dainty chiffon dresses and they presented a perfect exemplification of the ritulaistic work.

On Sunday, Mrs. Oldham and her party visited the surrounding country, which is in the heart of the mining industry of the Mother Lode. At the ghost town of Volcano they had the rare privilege of viewing a reprint, made in 1815, of the Declaation of Independence and many other historical spots concerning the early history of California. A visit was made to the town of Jackson, where the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West was founded by Lily O'Reichling Dyer 49 years ago.

DISCHARGING OF COUNTY ENGINEER OKED BY BOARD

Dismissal Is Submitted And New Man Appointed At Regular Meeting

At one of the most hectic sessions of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors ever held (and we have had some HECTIC ones lately) on Monday of this week County Executive Kellogg submitted to that body for ratification his discharge of Carl Scott from the position of county engineer. Scott has held that post since early in January. Kellogg also offered a resolution concurring in the appointment of Urban S. Marshall to succeed Scott.

Before any action was had on the matter District Attorney Ferrell rose to his feet and demanded that proceedings be halted until he was heard.

He told the members of the board that any action to oust Scott without a hearing was illegal and that he would advise the county controller to withhold the salary of the new appointee until such time as the matter had been adjudicated in the courts.

Supervisor Al Witt then moved that the discharge of Scott be concurred in by the board. Walter High seconded the motion, which carried by the affirmative votes of Supervisors Witt, High and Francis.

Witt introduced the resolution offered by Kellogg, appointing Marshall as county engineer and moved its adoption. This also carried by a vote of three to two, the same supervisors as on the previous motion voting in the affirmative.

Supervisor Beer accused the three majority members of transacting the business of the board at "secret meetings."

He was challenged by Supervisor Al Witt, who shouted: "I'll tell you about some secret meetings, Mr. Beer. "A man on this board was threatened with ruination of his business and that he would be virtually driven out of town if he didn't concur with the views of a certain committee that visited him and vote according to their wishes.

"That's coercion for you, concluded Supervisor Witt. He accused "supporters of Supervisor Beer" as being parties to the alleged coercion.

Beer denied that he had anything to do with it, and said he did not know any of his supporters were interested in the matter.

After the meeting of the board Scott said he would refuse to turn the keys of the engineer's office over to Urban S. Marshall unless he was forcibly ejected by the sheriff.

Scott later in the week applied to the superior court for a writ of review concerning the entire ouster proceedings.

After signing this order Wednesday morning, Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt late on the same afternoon recalled the order without prejudice. The court made the following statement regarding his ruling:

"The writ is hereby recalled on the grounds the court inadvertently signed an order issuing the same, which order exceeded the power of the court and which order was presented to the court during the rush of a class of naturalization and the contents thereof not fully explained to the court."

It was explained that this does not reject the county engineer's application, but merely gives the judge more time to consider it.

WEEKLY BULLETIN

By Chief A. P. Chesney

The department did at one time have a great many fires in Daly City caused by faulty fireplaces. The building ordinance calls for a heavy iron plate under all hearths, but in early days before inspection this was very often omitted by the fly by night contractors who did the work too cheaply. The hearth inside the fireplace and the fire place itself is supposed to be lined with fire clay brick, which is solid and will hold heat, but too often these cheap contractors placed the yellow face brick in these, and, as they are porus, the heat will go right through them.

Also, if the mortar joints are not well plastered, the heat gets a chance to go through these joints. As the space in back of the brick is all surrounded by wood and also an open space right up to the roof, it is only a matter of time before the lumber becomes so dry it will finally ignite, and we have a hidden fire that gets a good start before being discovered. To avoid this a good iron basket or grate should be used to hold the fuel, either wood or coal.

I recall one fire call that we got at two o'clock one morning where the tenants had lived in the house for almost two years and used the fireplace very often. Eventually the wood behind the fireplace got so dry that when we arrived there it had burned out the side of the house and well up into the ceiling and roof. After the blaze had been put out we found a hole in the brick work that you could shove a broom handle through.

The local merchant can increase his business and keep purchases at home by advertising in The Record.

Someone like you makes the heart seem lighter;
Someone like you makes the day's work worth while;
Someone like you makes the sun shine the brighter;
Someone like you makes a sigh half a smile.

Life's an odd pattern of briers and roses;
Clouds sometime darken, nor sun shining through,
Then the cloud lifts and the sun light discloses—
Near to me, dear to me, some one like you.—James W. Foley.

HOUSE FROCK ON TAILORED LINES

PATTERN 2089

Quite a "sweeping success," isn't it, this well-tailored house frock with its slenderizing lines and nicely detailed bodice? The skirt is fronted by a long slimming seam which breaks into a perky little kick pleat just below the knee; the bodice is gathered onto the yoke to provide ample fullness. And don't you like that vestee-like effect of the front yoke which does so much to break the width of the figure above the waistline? Buttons emphasize the trim belt, the pointed sleeve cuffs and the nice diagonal closing. Make it of any pretty cotton material, figured or plain, and you'll have a house frock to be proud of!

Pattern 2089 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 3¾ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Address orders to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth Street, New York City.

SYNOPSIS

Theodore Gatlin adopts a baby, "Penelope," in an effort to solve his matrimonial troubles. But his wife has never wanted her, and their affairs end in the divorce court. At a baseball game a ball strikes ten-year-old Penelope on the nose. Mrs. Gatlin spirits the child to Europe. Gatlin wills Penelope all his money, and is about to begin a search for her when a motor accident ends his life. Some ten years later, in San Francisco, Stephen Burt, rising young psychiatrist, is presented by Dan McNamara, chief of police, with a new patient—Nance Belden, a girl with a dual personality, for which her "saddle nose" is in part responsible. McNamara does not think she is a criminal and obtains Burt's testimony in court. Lanny, the doctor's office nurse, is also won over. Nance's criminal record outweighs Doctor Burt's explanation of her case and she is sent to San Quentin penitentiary. Nance escapes, although shot, and goes to Lanny's apartment. From one of the men in the boat on which the girl escaped McNamara learns that Nance's real name is Penelope Gatlin. He also discovers that she is heiress to $750,000. Fearful of McNamara, in his official capacity, Nance flees. Lanny finds her in her apartment, asleep. Then she disappears, and McNamara learns that she is living in Paris.

This was too much. Lanny put her arms around him and kissed him on each cheek.

"And that's a seal that'll get by, too." Dan was embarrassed. Lanny was, too—so she took a hasty departure.

The two men stared after her, admiration in their eyes. "A d—d fine woman, that. None finer," said McNamara.

"Why don't you marry her?" The suggestion popped out of Doctor Burt as suddenly as it had occurred to him.

"Now, there's an idea," McNamara mumbled dazedly. "How long have you been mulling it over?"

"Subconsciously, since you entered the office. I caught a gleam in Lanny's eyes—and when she kissed you, the subconscious crystalized into the conscious."

"I'll think it over."

"You'll not think it over, Mac. You'll make up your mind now. And I can get along without her, although the going will be pretty skiddy. But of course she'll marry you if you ask her. Lanny never proffers her friendships or her loves on the half shell. And there's still time, my boy, still time."

"Not if she goes to Paris."

"I've heard of police chiefs securing a leave of absence for six months."

"I couldn't take a six months' honeymoon to Paris, lad. I've saved eight thousand dollars—"

"What? You a chief of police and only worth eight thousand dollars?"

"God help me, boy, I'm honest."

Stephen roared his merriment. "Why, you great jackass, I know that. I wouldn't let every man have Lanny. But don't you worry about money. Lanny is a business woman. She's managed me since I was a boy, and that includes my finances. I'm loaded up with good dividend paying stocks. You know, I could be a mighty good friend to the man who would be good to Lanny."

"I'll consider the proposition," the cautious Celt replied, "although I'd rather be a bachelor than a disappointed lover."

"Tell you what to do, Mac," Stephen advised. "Send her a nice photograph of yourself. If she puts it in a silver frame you may proceed with confidence."

"How will I know, my boy?"

"If it's in a silver frame on the dressing table in her bedroom, it'll be a cinch."

"How'll I get into her bedroom, you blockhead?"

"I'll steal her latchkey and have a duplicate made. Then you can investigate."

McNamara rose and held out his hand. "'Tis a pity, Stephen, my boy, you aren't in my detective bureau. Good night."

The annual parade of the police force was but a week distant, and during that week Dan lived entirely on orange juice and spent his nights in a Turkish bath. As a result he dropped eight pounds off his northern elevation. Very erect and martial he sat on a milk-white charger, while a photographer took several exposures of him and his command.

When the prints were delivered to him, he sent them all to Lanny with a note saying:

"Now that we are both in the same crooked conspiracy, I thought you might be interested in having the latest photograph of the biggest crook of them all."

The following day Stephen Burt sent him a key, and the following afternoon McNamara let himself into Lanny's house and discovered one of the photos on her dressing table—and in a gold frame! Another print in a silver frame appeared in her drawing room.

"Holy Moses!" he soliloquized. "I'm in for it now! God help me, there's no escape!"

CHAPTER IX

Upon his return to his office McNamara found in his mail a photograph of Lanny, indorsed: "To dear old Dan—from his partner in crime—Lanny." While he was gazing upon it and telling himself how little justice the portrait did the beloved subject Stephen telephoned, demanding that he come to the office.

Lanny was in tears. "I've just had another visit from Mrs. Merton, Dan," Stephen began. "It seems that after two years of inactivity, during which time she had elected to believe Penelope Gatlin dead, she has developed a crazy notion to prove it. She wants to get Penelope's fortune."

"You questioned her about her daughter?"

"Yes, but she doesn't know it," said Stephen. "I hypnotized her first and spent an hour questioning her, and it appears that this morning she visited your captain of detectives and asked him to throw out a dragnet to locate Penelope Gatlin. She brought him some snapshots of the girl—told him her real name—all about her money—the girl's habits and peculiarities—everything. When I'd discovered enough to put Lanny in tears, I awakened Mrs. Merton and sent her away happy, but with this command firmly planted in her subconscious mind—she must not think of the name Penelope Gatlin. When I awakened her I asked her if she had an adopted daughter. She replied, surprised, that she had. I then asked her the name of this adopted daughter—and a look of terror came over her face. For the life of her she couldn't think of the name and begged me not to mention it if I knew it."

"It's a pity you didn't think of doing that before she went to the detective bureau with her information," McNamara cried, and called up the Security Trust company.

"The captain of detectives has put Flynn and Angelloti on the case," he announced drearily when he had hung up, "and Flynn has already been to the bank, making inquiries. When he presented his credentials the cashier showed him everything. They'll identify that girl as Nance Belden, trace her to Paris as readily as I did, and the French government will be notified that Penelope is an escaped convict. They will immediately deport her and Flynn will meet her at Hoboken."

"But can't you do anything about it, Dan?" Lanny pleaded.

"Nothing! Flynn and Angelloti are on the trail officially now." He stared at Lanny tragically. "I'm out of the picture now and can do nothing but advise you. Send two cables—one to Nance Belden in Paris and the other to Penelope Gatlin at the same address. Say: 'Come at once—Lanny dying—cable name vessel on which leaving,' and sign it 'Steve.'

"I'll meet her at the dock," Stephen decided. "I'm due in New York next week."

"You'll do nothing of the sort," said Dan. "I'll send that convict in my house." He shuddered and grimaced in his distress. "I could handle the wop with money, but Flynn has sworn an oath! And because I've made a monkey out of him he'll keep it. He'd rather make a monkey out of me now than acquire great riches—and if I'm broke, most likely the captain of detectives will step into my shoes, and Flynn will stand a good chance of becoming captain of detectives. Oh, murderation, Lanny darling, have you a little whisky in the house? I'm faint, so I am."

"You're suffering from heart trouble, you egg," Lanny cried savagely. "Yes! A weak heart, a soft heart, a human heart."

"Send that cable," he roared.

"Yes, get busy, Lanny," Stephen urged. "The bird of time has but a little way to flutter—and the wretched fowl is on the way."

After Dan McNamara had left his office, Doctor Stephen Burt gazed with mild disapproval upon Lanny.

"Unlike you and Dan McNamara," he said, "I dislike having the peaceful tenor of my life disturbed."

"This intrigue is myrrh and incense to me, Stevie."

"I know it. You and Dan love a fight for its own sweet sake, but I do not. I have a particular aversion to grand jury indictments, and it is a possibility you and your boy friend have let me in for."

"Fiddlesticks!"

"Lanny, I'll be angry with you in a minute. Now, listen to me, and whatever you do, do not talk back. Dan McNamara has run out on us. I mean you. He's through. Dan's rattled. If he hadn't been he'd never have ordered the sending of such a fool cablegram."

"Dan McNamara knows his way about," Lanny defended. "He's more than nine years old."

"So do I. Lanny, it will be highly dangerous to send that cablegram. How is she to know it isn't a message to decoy her back to the penitentiary? If she receives it while she's Penelope Gatlin, she is extremely liable to cable for confirmation before acting on it. That would mean a delay of not less than twenty-four hours. On the other hand, if she is Nance Belden when she receives it, she will leave Paris openly and walk right into the hands of the New York police. I'm not much of a detective, but tonight I'm a better one than that McNamara idiot."

"He's not an idiot. He's one of the finest men I ever knew."

"Keep quiet," he ordered severely. "You ditch my train of thought."

He drew a sheet of paper toward him and commenced writing, while Lanny glowered at him. Presently he sat up and read:

"Grave danger stop beat it some other country traveling by motor stop upon arrival cable address stop if need funds will cable them stop leave Paris establishment going concern stop go out for walk and disappear stop unless these instructions followed you leave trail for persecutors to follow.

"Mac."

He looked up. "How do those instructions strike you?"

CALIFORNIA News of the Week

Frank M. Shuck, 65, pioneer Fresno restaurant operator and credited with originating raisin bread which is now so popular throughout the country, died recently of a paralytic stroke.

The all-time record for respirator cases is credited to Raymond Rambo, Oakland, who has been encased in the "iron lung" at the Alameda County hospital for over 367 days. He is an infantile paralysis victim.

Heavy undergrowth and cover crops, which will dry out in the next few weeks, will be a constant fire menace this summer, according to Ventura County Fire Warden Walter Emerick. He said that conditions in his county, as far as fire hazards go, are the worst he has seen in ten years.

During 1934, the average California motorist used 601 gallons of gasoline, getting 15.25 miles to the gallon on his car, according to State Division of Highways figures. There were 1,712,000 passenger cars registered in 1934. Gasoline consumption gained from 1924 to 1932, when a decline set in.

Here's good news. The lack of sufficient unemployed men has been holding up an SRA storm drain extension project near Pomona. Two other city projects, it was shown, have practically drained the area of unemployed.

A crew of 25 men under the supervision of District Ranger John C. Davis is planting pine trees on the area of the Sugar Hill burn, Modoc County, which was fire-swept in 1929. A total of 165,000 trees, mostly of ponderosa pine and jeffrii pine, will be planted.

The only city west of the Atlantic seaboard to gain honorable mention among Class V cities in 1934 in the interchamber city health conservation contest was Santa Barbara. First prize winner was Hackensack, N. J. The contest was sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Without a dissenting vote, the State Assembly passed AB 121, making a bid for $10,000,000 in Federal funds for financing self-help co-operatives in California. Land, factories, materials are to be purchased by the state—presumably with Federal funds. Loans will be repayable in "goods or services." Democrats are sponsoring the measure.

Despite the fact that the Fish and Game Division has set the safety margin at 250,000 tons, sardine reduction plants operating outside the three-mile limit and consequently outside state jurisdiction, were largely responsible for the 700,000 tons of these fish which were taken during the recent sardine season. The division asserts that the industry is in danger of extinction unless legislation is enacted to regulate the take.

The California Pacific International Exposition, opening May 29, will give glimpses of the past, present and future West, according to officials. Special emphasis will be placed in honoring the huge projects now being constructed for this state, including the Boulder Dam, the trans-bay bridges at San Francisco and the All-American Canal.

Ten men seized at Modesto in possession of a dozen sticks of dynamite have confessed their intention to blow up property of a major oil company between Patterson and San Francisco. The men also admitted their membership in Bay city seamen's unions, on strike from oil company tankers in a coastwide walkout. The dynamite was part of that stolen recently from a Marin County quarry to be used in strike activities.

To Honolulu and back in 38 hours and 3 minutes of actual flying time. This is another dream that American engineering has made a reality. After a casual air jaunt to Hawaii, the 19-ton Pan American Clipper returned over the same route in 20 hours, 58 minutes, bucking strong headwinds, thus blazing a trail without mishap and with methodical precision for the establishment of regular air transport and mail service between California and the Orient.

Following George Creel's recent Washington announcement that Federal aid for the Central Valley Water project is assured, comes word that there is a possibility of even more liberal treatment of the project by PWA than originally contemplated. The loan's interest rate may be set at lower than 4 per cent, or the size of the direct grant may be increased to more than 30 per cent of labor and material costs—more than $38,000,000.

The Pacific Ocean is the scene of the greatest war game in the history of the fleet on the Pacific Ocean, as the giant battle maneuvers begin, May 3. The stage of the activities will be from Honolulu to Alaska and the Pacific Coast.

Predicting that the transpacific air passage service will begin late this summer, Pan-American airway officials have announced that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh will probably have active command of the first Clipper ship to begin the regular run.

HELP FOR THE BLIND

For an invention that enables a blind person to read any book or paper, the John Price Wetherill medal will be awarded on May 15 to Robert E. Naumburg, of New York, by the Franklin institute, Philadelphia. Mr. Naumburg's invention, known as the Visagraph, "reads" printed words for the blind with the aid of a photo-electric cell, and embosses each letter, several times enlarged, upon a strip of paper which passes under the finger-tips of the operator. The machine first was tried at Perkins Institution for the Blind, Watertown, Mass., and is regularly used there. Its advantage is that any printed material may be read, and the reader need not know Braille, or any other system for the blind. The characters reproduced by the machine simply are magnified reproductions of the printed letters.—Literary Digest.

BAYONNE MINE BEING FINANCED IN VANCOUVER

Nearly Million Dollars Ore In Sight—Will Construct Fifty Ton Mill

The following interesting article is from the pen of the versatile mining editor of the Vancouver Sun, Sidney Norman:

After several weeks of negotiation, a Vancouver syndicate has underwritten the financing of Bayonne Consolidated Mines, Ltd., recently organized with a capital of 2,000,000 shares to take over the Bayonne and Echo groups, at a maximum elevation of 6300 feet, on the southeast side of John Bull Mountain, above Bayonne Creek, a tributary of the north fork of Summit Creek, on the west side of Kootenay Lake, approached from Tye, a siding on the Canadian Pacific Railway, 23 miles from Nelson.

Reserves Nearly a Million

The deal was made upon the favorable report of P. W. Racey, mining engineer, who returned from an examination of the property recently.

He estimates 21,827 tons of positive ore in sight averaging .62 ounce gold and 2.85 ounces silver per ton, worth $497,437 gross, with gold figured at $34 and silver at 60 cents an ounce.

Possible ore is placed at a valuation of $447,693, bringing a good chance for development of other important reserves.

He recommends installation of a fifty ton mill and from tests already made in several metalurgical plants he places recovery at 95 per cent. The No. 2 tunnel should be advanced from 1100 to 1500 feet and a raise put up from No. 2 to No. 1 to open up the ground to economical extraction of ore.

Capital expenditure necessary to place the mine in production is estimated at $197,000, including $174,590 for mill and $22,500 for development and surface improvements.

Mr. Racey figures gross operating profit reasonably assured, probable and possible ore at $374,573, with net before taxes and depletion at $177,479.

Bayonne vein, which trends northeast-southwest, dips 75 degrees to the north with an average width of about eight feet, has been traced on surface for over 3000 feet and developed by three tunnels over approminately two-thirds of that length.

Three Tunnels Driven

No 1 tunnel is a crosscut for 60 feet and is then carried 440 feet on the vein. No. 2 is a drift upon the vein for a total distance of about 1400 feet. No. 3 is a crosscut for 800 feet and is then carried 700 feet on the vein from point of intersection.

Greatest depth attained at the face of No. 3 tunnel is approximately 250 feet. The work has developed four ore shoots, aggregating 500 feet in length, while another shoot, exposed by surface work, has not yet been reached underground.

Gold values, according to Mr. Racey, average around .62 ounce, while surface croppings have assayed as high as five or six ounces.

The property was located in 1901 by F. Harrison and F. Risdon, who did sufficient work to perfect crown grants upon the principal claims and subsequently sold to a syndicate of Montana mining men for a reported consideration of $80,000 cash.

A few years later the property was transferred to a company in which Hon. James B. Gerrard, former United States ambassador to Germany, was associated with the late Horace Winchell, internationally known mining engineer; John Gillies of Butte, one of the leading mining men of Montana, and the Marcus Daly estate. Mrs. Gerrard is a daughter of the late Marcus Daly, copper magnate.

Controlled By Gerrard

Of late years Mr. Gerrard acquired almost all the stock of the Montana company and today is the sole owner of the visible shares. He made one visit to the mine back in 1910, but has expended considerably over $100,000 upon development.

During 1921-23 the mine was under option to John B. White interests of Spokane and considerable development work was done under direction of B. N. Sharp, mining engineer, of Nelson.

Option Secured

Last fall the property was "spotted" by Duke Harris, well known scout, and through the efforts of W. G. Wilkins of Penticton and A. C. Frost of Seattle an option was obtained on the outstanding stock of the Montana company on a basis which permits payment of the entire purchase price from 32½ per cent of the net profits.

Work was immediately started on construction of a 23-mile road from Kootenay Lake to the mine and it has been kept open by tractor throughout the winter. Ten men are employed and timbers for the new mill have already been taken in.

Construction is to be rushed with all speed and it is expected that the plant will be in operation within the next three months.

At a meeting of Bayonne Consolidated Mines, held in Vancouver recently, R. W. Bruhn, M. L. A., Sicamous, was elected president; A. C. Fost of Seattle, vice president; W. A. Sutton, barrister of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer; and J. R. Pyper of Kamloops, director. One more director will be appointed. P. W. Racey, mining engineer, will act as consulting engineer, and J. Smith will take over mill construction.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Some Little Known Matters That Should Prove of General Interest

(By Maude Larue Ives)

Question: Who is the Japanese Ambassador to the United States?

Answer: Hirosi Saito

Question: What does a robin eat?

Answer: Robins are voracious eaters, and over half of their food consists of fruit. As they like wild berries better than the fruits of garden or orchard, the cultivated cherries and berries may be protected by the planting of wild shrubs and mulberries near by. Their food includes also large numbers of insects and worms, and for this reason they are an aid to the farmer. Robins are protected from indiscriminate slaughter in both the United States and Canada.

Question: What became of the fabulously rich crown jewels of the Czar of all the Russians?

Answer: When the Communist government came into power the crown jewels of the late royal family were confiscated by the Soviet government. They were reported as sold to a syndicate, to be broken up and disposed of, but accredited reports say they are preserved in vaults in the state bank. The czarina's crown is said to be valued at $52,000,000.

Question: What causes rust and how may it be removed?

Answer: Rust is a brownish red substance that forms on the surface of iron or steel when these are exposed to a damp atmosphere. The term without modification means iron rust, which is a compound of oxygen and iron, commonly known as the red oxide of iron. Rust is formed by the union of the oxygen of the air with the iron, a process called oxidation, and moisture is an important agent in producing the change. When rust is formed the surface of the metal is corroded, so that a polished surface is made rough. Rust not only corrodes the surface, but it weakens the metal. Rust may be removed from iron and steel by scrubbing with water, or by the use of the flour of emery, or any other polishing powder, provided the rust has not been forming for too long a time. A thick coat of rust requires the use of an emery wheel, a grindstone, or a file for its removal. The brownish yellow spots of iron rust formed on linen may be removed by soaking the fabric in a weak solution of oxalic acid for a short time, and then thoroughly washing it. A strong solution of this acid will weaken and may destroy the fabric. Sometimes lemon juice is used with success.

Question: What is a sable?

Answer: A sable is a small mammal belonging to the fur-bearing group of animals, the weasel family, and having the most valuable pelt of them all. It is a native of Siberia and is closely related to the North American pine marten, or American sable, as the latter is sometimes called. The sable is usually not over a foot and a half in length. Its fur, which covers even the feet and soles, is a lustrous dark brown, with grayish yellow spots on the sides of the neck. It does not change to white in winter, as is true of some furs. In European countries state dignitaries sometimes have coats of sable. A coat of this fur owned by Nicholas II, former czar of Russia, is said to have been worth $22,000.

TO OUR READERS

In working up to the achievement we have ever in mind, that of making the Daly City Record the best weekly newspaper in the state of California, we must have the hearty co-operation of the residents of this live community. The editor hears in unison the ejaculation from all readers:

"Why, how can we help?"

Succinctly stated, you can help the editor to accomplish what you must admit to be his highly laudable ambition by bringing or sending news to the Record office, and, what is equally important, bringing or sending it early.

BUSINESS GAINS CONTINUE

The continued upward trend in American business as reflected in reports from many agencies in a position to evaluate the forces favorable to recovery is set forth in the following editorial from the Atlanta Journal:

"The Business Advisory and Planning Council, whose 52 members represent virtually every field of American industry and trade, reports that gains in profit or volume, or in both, for the first two months of the current year over the parallel period of 1934 range from 'satisfactory' up to 30 per cent.

"The magazine Business Week finds from a survey covering the entire country that sales of automobiles and refrigerators are well ahead of the records of a year ago, that heavy construction is far in excess of the figures for 1933, and that the value of checks drawn is 'substantially higher.'

"The Association of Life Insurance Presidents announces that the cumulative total of new business for January and February of this year is 17 6-10 per cent above the amount written during those months in 1934.

"Dun & Bradstreet report a new 'low' record in commercial failures for the first week of March.

The National Department of Commerce records a gain of $4,000,000 in our export trade for January.

"Federal income tax receipts for the first 20 days of this March were 33 1-3 per cent more than in the like period of last year.

"These are a few of many significant items from the business trends. They give point to a recent statement by Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Addressing a group of financial and industrial leaders in New York, he declared: 'It is unmanly and unAmerican for one to blame the government for his own lack of courage and enterprise. Wherever you lead, the rest of the country will follow and 60 days before any one knows it the victory over doubt and despair will have been won.'

"That major problems still confront the national recovery program—such, for instance, as that of reducing the still more formidable ranks of the unemployed—is not to be denied. But more meaningful are the steady gains in almost every province of business."

"We find millions of our citizens stranded in village and on farm—stranded there because Nature cannot support them in the livelihood they had sought to gain through her."—President Roosevelt.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

New Steel Peak Seen During This Quarter: Belief persists among steel producers that another peak in steel production is ahead for this quarter on the assumption that a buying movement to rebuild stocks ahead of price increases will develop, states the magazine "Steel." Steel works operations last week advanced one point to 45 per cent, striking a point of greater resistance after four consecutive weekly reductions.

"The impending freight rate advances have not encouraged speculative buying," the magazine states, "but after carefully analyzing the effect the new rates will have on costs, steelmakers are seriously considering a price rise for the third quarter."

If this should develop, it was said, there may be a repetition of the industry's experience last year, when a buying movement to rebuild stocks ahead of price increases for the third quarter carried the steel rate up to 63 per cent in June.

Equipment Orders Show Sharp Increase: Sharp revivals in the capital goods industry, which has affected producers of machinery and machine tools is likely to continue for the balance of the year, according to the opinions expressed here by purchasing agents. For the first time since 1929, purchasing executives report, substantial requisitions for new equipment are being sent through daily, with instructions to place orders immediately.

Steel mills and automotive plants in the Midwest are leading the revival at present. Orders for all types of equipment have been placed by steel producers who are rebuilding plants. Automobile manufacturers are making heavy commitments for improvements in their establishments.

March Failures Are Lowest in 15 Years: Business failures in March were reduced in number compared with each of the two preceding months this year. For that month the number was smaller than for March in any year back to 1920.

The records of Dun & Bradstreet Inc., showed 976 business defaults in the United States for the month just closed, compared with 1102 in March last year and 1943 two years ago. The record high for March was for that month in 1932, when the number of failures was 2951.

General Electric Orders up Thirty Per Cent For Quarter: New business booked by the General Electric Co. in the first quarter of 1935 was the greatest for any similar quarter since 1931, around $50,000,000, an increase of 30 per cent over the like quarter last year, when the company received $38,148,654 new orders. In the first quarter of 1933 orders reached their low ebb for many years, declining to $25,511,644, in contrast to $33,404,642 booked in the first quarter of 1932 and $60,366,297 in the first three months of 1931.

Declares Auto Code Is Strongest In NRA: The automobile code, governing the sales of automobiles, is now the strongest code in the NRA, and is here to stay, said B. J. Meyer of St. Louis, field representative for the National Automobile Dealers' Association at the dinner of the Schenectady Automobile Dealers' Association and their salesmen.

Despite some assertions to the contrary, the dealer code is becoming stronger and the new deal is in accord with the automobile code setup and working harmoniously with the officials of the national association, he said.

Income Increases By Billion In Two Months: The American public received nearly a billion dollars more from pay rolls in industry, trade, services, and transportation as well as from the sale of farm products and government payments to agriculture during January and February this year as compared with the first two months last year, according to A. W. Zelomek, economist of the International Statistical Bureau, Inc.

The bureau estimates consumer income at $7,037,000,000 for the first two months in 1935 as compared with $6,040,000,000 a year ago, and $4,726,000,000 for the corresponding period two years ago.

National Income Up 13.9 Per Cent During 1934: National income in 1934 of $47,600,000,000 increased 13.9 per cent over the 1933 total, it was announced in a survey published by the National Industrial Conference Board, a research organization supported by large corporations.

National income, which is the net value of goods and services produced, was $377 per capita last year, an increase of $44 over the 1933 total, the board reported.

Although the conference board found that national income declined 42.7 per cent from 1929 to 1934, the cost of living dropped 20.6 per cent.

"The purchasing power of the national income produced in 1934 was, consequently, about 27 per cent below the pre-depression peak," the survey stated.

N. Y. Life Companies' Assets Higher in '34: Life insurance companies in New York state increased their assets during 1934 by $853,479,241, compared with an increase of $311,057,971 in the preceding year, according to financial statements rendered to the State Insurance Department. The total assets of these companies on December 31, 1934, were $19,099,883,583.

Companies operating in the fire and casualty lines of insurance showed similar increases last year.

Life policies issued, revived, and increased last year totaled $11,872,062,516, an increase of over one billion dollars for the year. The amount of surplus or unassigned funds came to $644,284,515, an increase of two and one-half million.

Shoe Output Shows Gain Over January, 1934: The total production of boots, shoes, and slippers, other than rubber, for January 1935, increased 11.1 per cent over January, 1934, and 12.4 per cent over December, 1934, according to figures released by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. For January 1935, the total was 28,833,620 pairs, compared with 26,041,782 pairs for the same month a year ago, and 23,199,708 for December.

Machinery Buying Big Spur to Jobs: "Every unemployed worker in the machinery building industries could be given a steady job for the next two years, if the actual need for new machinery, which has been accumulating for the last five years, were transformed into orders." This conviction was expressed by H. C. Beaver, president of the Worthington Pump & Machinery Corporation.

Mr. Beaver's estimate of the situation is based on a recently completed survey of this country-wide pent-up need for new equipment. A potential demand amounting to $18,000,000,000 is disclosed by this survey, made by the Machinery and Allied Products Institute of Chicago, of which he is a member.

Dun Forecasts Sharpest Business Upturn in Twenty-five Years: The sharpest business rise in twenty-five years was forecast for the immediate future in the weekly business review by Dun & Bradstreet.

"More convincing proof has come forward that the passing of March left behind the lows for the year," the review stated.

"During the week there was a complete transformation of the sentiment, as the hopes for a rather far-removed improvement were replaced by a realization that the immediate future is to bring the sharpest rise that has been witnessed in business in the past quarter of a century."

The review added that the rise "will be fortified adequately to prevent the interrupting recessions which followed the spurts of the last two years."

It continued: "Potential benefits of the $5,000,000,000 appropriated by the government have provided stimulus needed to dispel the impatience which had appeared in some branches because of the let-down in business toward the close of the first quarter.

"All of the reports received were more decisive than at any time this year in the confident attitude taken regarding a more even tempo of progress from now on.

"Encouragement also was provided by the fact that, in spite of rain, cold, snowfall, and recurrent dust storms, consumer demand was sufficiently strong to carry retail distribution to a larger total than for the week preceding."

LESSON SERMON OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil." These words from Proverbs comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, May 5, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Everlasting Punishment." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph? . . . . Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity? . . . . But the Lord is my defence; and my God is the rock of my refuge" (Psalms 94:3, 16, 22).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Science removes the penalty only by first removing the sin which incurs the penalty. This is my sense of divine pardon, which I understand to mean God's method of destroying sin. If the saying is true, 'While there's life there's hope,' its opposite is also true, While there's sin there's doom" (p. 40).

NOTICE OF ANSWER TO RECALL OF FRANK B. JOHNSTON, 219 MACDONALD AVE., BAYSHORE, CALIF.

I hereby state Edward H. Schwerin Jr. and his constituents have and did file false and malicious charges in the recall of myself, which will be shown by reasons stated below:

First—He and the others signing the recall have not attended meetings of the City Council.

Second—Have never shown any interest except selfish interests in the city.

Third—Made a statement—The garbage interests were behind certain recalls, also were behind me, which is absolutely false.

Fourth—Another false statement: That I was an obstructionist. Had they attended council meetings they would know differently.

Fifth—Another false statement: I have been dictatorial. I have been a minority on the board and could not be.

Sixth—My conduct in office may be unsatisfactory to E. Schwerin Jr. and his crowd, but it has been honest and, I think, for the best interests of all in the incorporated area.

Dated May 3, 1935, Bayshore, Calif.

FRANK B. JOHNSTON,
219 MacDonald Avenue.

ANSWERING NOTICE OF INTENTION TO RECALL "HOMER C. THOMAS, 217 MACDONALD AVENUE, TOWN OF BAYSHORE."

First: There is no such party living at said address; however, as I am C. Homer Thomas of that address, I am protecting my interests by answering same.

Second: An article in same edition as recall notice quoted Mr. Schwerin as stating "that the recall was the opening move in a battle to drive the garbage dumpers out of Bayshore." This shows Mr. Schwerin's ignorance of what is really going on in this district. If he knew anything he would know that the City Council has nothing whatever to do with that situation. That is a matter of the Bayshore Sanitary District, which district was formed many years before Mr. Schwerin started to get Bayshore incorporated so he could lease his property, and he would also know that the Sanitary District is under the jurisdiction of the State of California and NOT the town, or City Council, of Bayshore.

Third: I was put in office by the legal voters of this district and have tried to do the best I could for ALL the residents, and not any particular group or clique, and if a majority of the legal voters want someone else in the office I hold that is their privilege, but not the kind of voters that voted from Mr. Schwerin's address, 606 Wallbridge street, on the incorporation election, men living in San Francisco and Daly City. I wish to qualify that statement as to being Mr. Schwerin's address, since that is doubtful.

Fourth: Mr. Schwerin cost me some votes at the time of my election by putting out a paper under the "Chamber of Commerce" heading and using my name on same after I had forbidden him to do so—maybe that is his reason for classing me as "an obstructionist."

Fifth: I am only one man in a body of five. I can, and do, express my opinions as to what I believe to be right and for the best interests of the majority of the people, but I have no control of the other four members of the body; they have their opinions, too.

Sixth: I have been a property owner and taxpayer here since 1924, and I intend to do what I believe to be right and for the best interest of the city as a whole so long as the people who put me in office wish me to serve them.

Seventh: I wish to state that Mr. Schwerin's charges are false in each and every item.

Dated May 3, 1935, Bayshore, Calif.

C. HOMER THOMAS.

Said City Council shall carefully consider the character of the applicant and his qualifications to conduct the business in question. Its decision shall be final.

Section 30. Revocation: If the City Council or any officer or agent thereof shall have reason to believe that any statement, affidavit or certificate upon which any license or permit has been issued does not set forth the true facts called for hereunder, and if within five (5) days after demand has been made therefor the same is not furnished, said matter shall be reported to the City Council. The City Council shall have power to issue an order to show cause, based upon five (5) days' written notice to said licensee, at a time and place fixed in said notice, why said license shall not be revoked, or why a fee, to be determined by said Council, and specified in said notice, should not be fixed for such licensee.

Section 31. The City Council shall forthwith set said matter for hearing and cause notice of the time and place thereof to be given to the applicant not less than five (5) days prior to such hearing. At such hearing the applicant shall appear and offer evidence in support of his application. After such hearing, if proper showing is made entitling applicant to said license or permit, the City Council shall determine the proper fee to be charged and shall forthwith give written notice to the licensee of such determination and of the amount of such fee. In the absence of an appeal from any ruling of the license collector, within the time specified, the ruling of said collector shall be final.

Section 33. License for Subsequently Acquired Vehicle: If subsequent to the issuance of any license and prior to its expiration date, any licensee shall use any vehicle in his business for which a license has not been issued, he shall procure a license for such vehicle from the license collector. If the license therefor is based upon vehicle, he shall pay the vehicular license herein provided therefor.

Section 34. Vehicle: Every person, driving, operating or maintaining any vehicle upon streets in said city in connection with any business, shall pay an annual license fee for each such vehicle based upon the carrying capacity as follows:

Section 36. Purpose: The purpose of this ordinance is to license, for revenue and/or regulation, the carrying on in the City of Daly City of various lawful businesses, professions, trades, callings and/or occupations. Where it is lawful to license only for regulation, then the license hereunder is for that purpose. And where it is lawful to license only for revenue, then the license hereunder is for that purpose.

Section 37. No person who engages in any business in the City of Daly City shall be excluded from the operation of any provision of this ordinance by reason of associating with any local dealer, trader, merchant or auctioneer, or by reason of conducting such business in connection with or as part of, or in the name of, the business of any local dealer, trader, merchant or auctioneer.

Section 38. If the license fee herein provided for is not paid within thirty days after the same becomes due, the tax collector shall add 10% to the amount of the license as a penalty for non-payment. If the license fee is not paid within sixty days after it becomes due, the tax collector shall add 15% to the amount of the license as a penalty for non-payment. HIGHLY POPULAR "FAN" RAG RUG

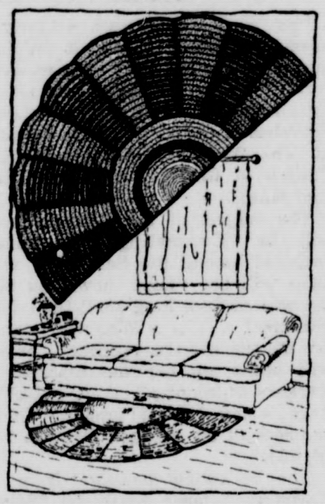
By GRANDMOTHER CLARK



This "Fan" rag rug has attracted a lot of attention and to our knowledge quite a few home rug makers have made one or more like it. It must be seen to be appreciated. Made up in brilliant colors, the panels in alternating light and dark shades and the center of dark green and red, this rug is bound to catch the attention of anyone upon entering the room. This model measures 58 inches across and 30 inches deep, and requires about four pounds of material to crochet. The ten panels are made first and then crocheted together. The center half circle is made to fit opening for it and in turn is slip stitched into space.

This beautiful rug is one of the twenty handmade rugs shown in colors in rug book No. 24.

If handmade rag rugs interest you send us 15c for this book of rugs with instructions, and you will receive it by mail postpaid.

Wind Velocity Retards Central Asian Progress

A recent typhoon that killed 1,500 people and ravaged 400 miles of country near Tokyo was one of only 120 m. p. h., yet it was sufficient to blow down all but concrete structures like packs of cards. Recent experiments in measuring wind force have proved that the greatest recorded velocity was at Mount Washington, in Vermont. Here the wind blew at 231 m. p. h. It was so cold that the measuring instrument which recorded the speed had to be electrically heated to prevent it freezing solid.

Nevertheless, scientists believe that winds of a greater force blow across the wastes of central Asia. Rocks in this region are worn away in a few centuries, and in the past vast towns have been buried deep in sand within a few hours. The wind, in fact, is so devastating that, although the country has been populated on and off for thousands of years, little or no progress has been made.

Fostered by War

Vladivostok, at the eastern end of the world's longest railroad, owes a great part of its recent growth to the World war. Normally, before the war, the city had about 50,000 inhabitants. A recent census gives its population as 128,000. Russia maintains a huge arsenal there.

Mullen of that state, is in Vancouver on business connected with development of the Standard and Black Diamond claims in the Beaverdell district. Another Diesel engine of from 400 to 500 horsepower is to be installed at the property of the Cariboo Gold Quartz, Cariboo district, preparatory to increase of milling capacity from 100 to 200 tons. Arrangements are being made for construction of a hydro electric plant by the Cariboo Hydro Electric Power Company, on Swamp River, where power rights, land and mineral claims have been taken over from Cariboo Gold Quartz Mining Company. It is understood that when the new power is available some of the Diesel units now in use at the mine will be sold and the new unit kept as an auxiliary in case of power interruption.

This is now to be extended an additional 500 feet and a crosscut run to pick up five parallel veins said to have been exposed upon the surface with assays running up as hgih as $69, at a point above the present tunnel. It is understood that work is to be resumed immediately.

Angus McLeod, superintendent of Taylor (Bridge River) Mines, Ltd., adjoining Bralorne on the east, Bridge River district, has reported an important strike in the southeast drift on No. 5 vein, where a channel sample from the face, across five and a half feet, assayed .75 ounce gold. Crosscut on the southwest side of the drift shows quartz over a width of nine feet. The drift is well mineralized with pyrite and arsenopyrite and is being continued easterly from the main crosscut tunnel. McLeod says that work on the No. 5 vein has been encouraging and it is planned to crosscut northerly in the near future.

WATCH OUT FOR SMALL CHILDREN

Schools will soon be out for summer vacations. That should mean more vigilance on the part of motorists. It is a difficult task to keep children confined entirely to safety areas. Youth is effervescent and is very apt to overflow from vacant lots, from playgrounds, or from sidewalks into the streets.

Every child at play should be a warning sign. Skates find it easier to coast into the street than to turn discreetly at the corner; bicycles find it hard to hug the sidewalks and the curbstones; vacant lots are not always plentiful and the middle of the street makes a fine baseball field; little tots become courageous kiddie-car drivers on the sloping driveway and the temptation to run after a rolling ball is too great for the ambition of youth.

Motorists must safeguard in every way possible the lives, health and happiness of children. You are urged to be careful.

JEFFERSON WINS FROM SOUTH CITY IN RETURN GAME

The day was warm, the crowd was cheering, the coaches and umpire arguing, the players battling. Out of all this the Jefferson High nine once again attacked and scalped the Boilermaker team from South City. Although the score was close, the Indians succeeded in securing South City's hide and what more does Jefferson want?

Neither team did anything in the first inning. Bill Strassburger started off by striking out two of the first three men to face him.

In the second and third innings Jefferson failed to score, although receiving a few hits. In the second inning, for South City, however, Jennings, shortstop, hit a triple into the "sticks" of right field, and on the next play tried to take Pfeifer off guard by stealing home, but the latter was just a little too good for him and caught him on the play.

It was in the fourth inning that the Jeffersons scored their lone run. Louis Nannini was walked after being hit by the ball, and later stole second and third without much trouble. Pfeifer hit a long fly to left field, and Nannini easily scored after the catch. Burns, next man up, hit and stole second, but the inning ended without further scoring. For South City, Jennings again singled, but was thrown out at second, again by Pfeifer.

The fifth inning was uneventful, but in the sixth Jefferson gathered a few more hits. Bill Strassburger hit a perfect drive over third base, followed by another bingle by Pfeifer. Bill stole third, but the inning ended there.

South City tried valiantly to tie the score in the seventh inning, but Bill Strassburger just wouldn't let them do it, so South City went home with another defeat!

JEFFERSON HIGH IN WIN FROM LICK 6-1

The Jefferson Indians took advantage a wild sixth inning, when they blasted the Lick pitcher out of the box, to score five runs and cinch the game, Jefferson winning 6 to 1 on the home field last week.

Lick held a one run lead until the fourth inning, when Owens hit to bring in Harry Rose and tie the score at 1-1.

Jefferson took advantage of a number of errors in Lick's infield to score five runs in the sixth inning and take the lead—a lead that they held until the end of the game.

John Green, known as "Schoolboy" Green, pitched a one hit game. All of the members of the team played a great game of heads-up baseball.

Daly City Tanforan Proves Too Much For Home All-Stars in Hot Contest

(By Al Gould)

Excuses for the defeat handed to Moe Plansky and company on Sunday afternoon at the Jefferson High diamond would be out of line. The Tanforans won on their merits. They not only outhit the All-Stars, but their pitching ace, Matty Sullivan, was invincible.

Sullivan never was in trouble at any time during the progress of the game. He was the master at all times. There are no breaks connected with a game when a pitcher twirls a two-hit shutout.

Tremaine singled with one down in the first. Maloney doubled, sending Tremaine to third.. Petrocchi fanned Vasquez. Dinneen singled, scoring Tremaine and Maloney. De Valle singled. Albrecht singled, loading the hassocks. Then Petrocchi struck out Kondeff, another slugger. This was the only scoring period of the game.

The All-Stars were not hitting. Sullivan had their numbers. However, there wasn't anything wrong with their conduct in the field. And their errorless fielding proved that they can play championship baseball when the going is tough.

Gerstenberg made a great catch of Vasquez's hot liner. Hughie Smith was at the top of his form in center field, turning in two of the most spectacular catches I have ever seen. Petrocchi pitched a good game, striking out nine of the Tanforanites.

Harry Maloney, Pete Dinneen and Joe Albrecht excelled with the stick, while Carrasco, Vasquez and Dinneen were the fielding stars for the Tanforan nine.

CHECK CONNECTIONS

All connections from the motor to the rear end of the exhaust pipe should be checked at regular intervals to see if there are any leaky gaskets or joints.

Exhaust gases are poisonous and if leaky gaskets are not renewed dangerous fumes may find their way into the passenger compartment, causing headaches, nausea and other ill effects.
